ISLAND ENERGY SERVICES ANNOUNCES EXPANDED PAYMENT OPTIONS TO TEXACO MOBILE APP

The additional options give consumers additional flexibility at the pump for nearly touchless transactions when visiting a Texaco service station

KAPOLEI, HAWAII – (Sept. 16, 2020) – IES Retail, LLC (“Island Energy”), Hawaii’s exclusive Texaco brand licensee, announced today customers using the Texaco Mobile App can now add Visa, MasterCard, American Express, and Discover as linked payment methods when filling up at their neighborhood Texaco station.

The expanded payment options are in addition to other payment options previously available: Chevron and Texaco proprietary credit cards, PayPal, and Venmo. Today’s announcement makes the mobile app wallet among the most customer friendly in the industry.

“This added feature provides additional flexibility and security for our customers. After selecting payment type and pump location using the App from the comfort of their vehicle, customers can select their fuel grade and dispense their gasoline. The app improves customer convenience while enabling nearly touchless transactions at the pump during these unprecedented times,” said Albert Chee, Island Energy’s Vice President of Retail and Community Relations.

The mobile apps are deployed across the majority of stations in Hawai‘i. Compatible with all iOS and Android devices, the app is available in the Apple App Store and Google Play.
