

Island Energy Services Donates $25,000 to Kaua'i Economic Development Board for Hurricane Lowell Relief

Contribution supports community efforts to deliver emergency resources to Kaua'i residents affected by the storm

Kapolei, Hawai'i — September 25, 2026 — Island Energy Services (IES) has donated $25,000 to the Kaua'i Economic Development Board (KEDB) to support communities affected by Hurricane Lowell.

KEDB is working with community organizations to coordinate emergency resources, food, and supplies across Kaua'i. The contribution will support that relief work as residents and businesses continue to recover from the storm.

"Recovery takes neighbors, businesses and community organizations working together," said Jackie Kaina, KEDB Executive Director. "IES's contribution will help us respond to needs across Kaua'i as families and communities recover from Hurricane Lowell. We're grateful for their support and their commitment to our island."

"Folks across Kaua'i have always demonstrated the ability to pull together to help each other in tough times," said Albert Chee, Vice President of Policy, Government and Public Affairs at IES. "We are grateful to KEDB and its community partners for helping get essential resources to those who need them. As a Hawai'i company, we want to stand with Kaua'i and support that work."

As part of its ongoing support for recovery efforts, IES is donating Texaco gift cards for the upcoming Harvest of Hope community event at Grove Farm Park on October 4. The event has been rescheduled from Sept 27.

IES operates two Texaco locations on Kaua'i, in Līhu'e and Kōloa.
